

LONDON, 25th September.
The following is a summary of an official Peking cablegram received on Monday:—Specific sum have been offered for the treaty powers by China to compensate for the loss of their property at various places due to the disorders encountered. Four leaders of the rebels have executed and twenty-one banished. Five mandarins have been adjudged culpable in not adopting measures to preserve order. The Imperial Government has ordered the Emperor to call a Council of State to consider the situation and northern expeditions to root out the Yaqua and afford protection to life and property of Europeans wherever necessary. Though rumours of further trouble still exist, uneasiness in certain places, the Government has no doubt of its ability to cope effectively with all attempts at treachery.

LONDON, 25th September.
Communications from the Peking Government offering compensation to foreigners who have suffered in the recent riots in China with the strongest assurances of future protection are received daily. The Chinese Ambassador in London, Han Chung-chang, the Chinese Ambassador in the European courts, has recently been in St. Petersburg, where he succeeded in inducing the Russian Government to withdraw from the joint action projected by the powers. He arrived in Berlin on the 1st instant, trying to induce Chancellor von Caprivi, but it is certain that he will not alter the determination of the German Government to co-operate with the British in taking decisive measures.

ME. PARMENT AND HIS FOES.

DUBLIN, 25th September.
Parment, speaking at Cabinteely to-day, said that one of the dangers of the future was that the Imperial Government was unfriendly in dithering to suppress the disorders and seeking time to deal with the anti-freedom movement, and declared that precipitate action on the part of the powers of Europe would not be in the interest of Ireland's electoral strength.

DUBLIN, 25th September.
A man was killed in a fierce fight between Parlementists and anti-Parlementaries in St. Peter's.

DUBLIN, 25th September.
At the meeting of a Peal-mat leadership committee to-day Mr. Macdonald announced that a plant had been purchased and a newspaper in Parment's interest would be started.

DALMATION BANK, LONDON.

The banking world here has been startled by the announcement of an important bank robbery.

The Institute is the Lon Fox and Westminster Bank Limited, an important establishment having over fifteen branch houses in this city.

The money stolen is a large parcel of bills received from a country bank in America. The amount is not known, but the probability of the punishment of the real leaders of the quatters.

If Lord Salisbury supports Minister Walshaw's policy the powers will actively interfere in order to protect Europeans leaving the Yangtze. The inference to draw is that the Chinese circular to the powers aims simply at delay in order to shirk the indemnity and therefore not to be held to account to Europe.

THE AMERICAN MAIL.

The P. M. steamer China, with the American mail of the 26th inst., arrived here yesterday morning. The subjoined telegrams are taken from our San Francisco office:

A CANADIAN CABLE TO THE QUEEN.

Ottawa, Oct. 25th Sept. 1891.

The Senate to-night adopted an address to her majesty to the effect that Great Britain should denounce and terminate the provisions applying to Canada in certain commercial treaties with Great Britain, Belgium and the German Empire. It is to be hoped that these negotiations will be favorably considered. It would enable Canada to adopt such modifications in the tariff arrangements as would be required for the promotion of its trade against aggressive defences or injurious measures of foreign policy.

THE QUEEN.

New York, Oct. 25th Sept. 1891.

Edward VII's special cablegram to the Queen is:—The Queen is just now in excellent health, her Majesty having derived very great benefit from the bracing Scotch air. Osborne does not really like the Queen at any place, and that several vessels were wrecked there and that several vessels were wrecked, in addition to a great amount of damage done by the storm to the harbors. The ships throughout the harbor have suffered severely.

LONDON, 22d September.

The northeast gales which have been causing much damage in England and Scotland have subsided, numerous fair-weather gales have been rapping there, and that several vessels were wrecked, in addition to a great amount of damage done by the storm to the harbors. The ships throughout the harbor have suffered severely.

GERALD KAISER.

BERLIN, 25th September.
The German requested him to go to Moscow, through Germany, to his son to Moscow, with whom he is going because of the death of the Grand Duchess Paul, so strictly private, with no reception at the railway station. The car arrived here to-day and was received by Prince Leopold on behalf of Emperor William. After dinner he remained his guest.

VERNA, 25th September.

It is authoritatively announced that the Earl and Empress William will meet on Saturday at Bromberg. The announcement being entirely unexpected has caused considerable fluttering political circles.

THE POLITICAL SITUATION IN EUROPE.

London, 21st September.
Sir John E. Gorst, Political Secretary of the India Office, in an interview to-day upon the English land question, refused to commit himself to any definite plan for the settlement of his grievance. He said, however, that he would be willing to make a full revelation before he could be induced to give up his claim.

PARIS, 25th September.
This violent attack on a man of great and greatness like Napoleon will have diplomatic results. It simply reveals the character of the monarch who seizes every occasion to ravish France and hate revenge.

Le Figaro says:—"The speech that resonates throughout Paris will be used to indicate that the government of Sir Edward Ferguson is to be accepted. The Star-to-day predicts he will be the leading 'Tory Democrat,' and intimates that he is preparing to bid high for the rural vote."

The representative of the New York Herald has deemed it worth while to interview Mr. Lloyd, the subject of the forthcoming general election in England. He opened fire on the crank as follows:

"Mr. Labouchere, who has seen Mr. Gladstone's article in the Nineteenth Century, in which he claims that the Liberals will obtain a majority of 150 seats at the next general election, I do not mean a bloody revolution, but I mean the people will demand the possession of the land they live upon. They have now the power to do so, and they are dissatisfied with their present lot; consequently they will have things altered."

Confidential information has been afforded to Mr. Sir John Gorst, who is a member of the Royal Labour Commission since June last, when a remarkable outburst of plain speaking in the Commons, has expressed strong for certain members of the Ministry. His present utterances would seem to indicate that the appointment of Sir Edward Ferguson to the Foreign Office will be accepted. The Star-to-day predicts he will be the leading 'Tory Democrat,' and intimates that he is preparing to bid high for the rural vote."

ENGLISH POLITICS.

LONDON, 21st September.

Sir John E. Gorst, Political Secretary of the India Office, in an interview to-day upon the English land question, refused to commit himself to any definite plan for the settlement of his grievance. He said, however, that he would be willing to make a full revelation before he could be induced to give up his claim.

PARIS, 25th September.

The cost of Italy's defences by sea and land is increasing, and with it grows the restlessness of the authorities of what it terms "the peace-producing" government. The Alce-Lorraine party, however, is in a minority, and the Emperor has made himself prominent by actions which have developed themselves and which laugh at threats.

Le Figaro says:—"This time it is not we who can be accused of talking of revenge. It is the German Emperor who reminds us that armaments of the day. His remarks are an independent outburst on the part of a great power."

"I do not think the majority will be so large and I should rather put it at about sixty."

If Mr. Gladstone does have a majority will there be a bonfire for him? Will he bring it in?"

"Certainly." Mr. Gladstone is a earnest and bold man, and it is difficult to conceive of any one as able to settle the question once and for all with the approval of all reasonable Irishmen. His measure will be supported by his followers in the House of Commons, for they will be pledged by their constituents to vote for it.

I suppose the House of Lords will throw it out."

"That is very probable," rejoined Mr. Labouchere. "We shall end up to them not only a home rule but also two or three sound radical measures which they will also throw out. Disolution will therefore take place, not alone on the Home rule bill, but also on the Home Rule Bill, and the lords will be allowed to ignore the will of the nation. The lords as it is are thoroughly unpopular and they will be swept off the political chess board."

LONDON, 22d September.

The First Lord of the Admiralty has written to the Foreign Office, enclosing a copy of the Times, to advise the French to inspect English defences and armaments, on the ground that it would remove the false impression of England's strength, created by the depreciatory tone of the English press.

Mr. Balfour has registered himself as a voter in Scotland. The Conservatives will probably nominate his candidacy for member of Parliament for that seat.

LONDON, 23rd September.

Gladstone's coming deliverance at the Liberal federation meeting is invested with further importance by the fact that the new Lord Salisbury, after his re-election as a member of the House of Commons, has openly expressed his opinion that he will be placed in power. The idea of the offensive picture being derived from the successful prodigies of "Lobengrin." They have also made an objectionable play-out and dried programs, but, if the expectation proves correct, Gladstone will make the meeting memorable by a statement of foreign policy which will appeal to the British public. The speech will be given to-night, and it passed off without a hitch.
